

Connecticut Freedom Trail Hartford Sites

Faith Congregational Church: 2030 North Main Street
One of earliest African-American churches founded in Connecticut.

Frank T. Simpson House: 27 Keney Terrace
The first employee of the first Connecticut state civil right agency.

Harriet Beecher Stowe House: Farmington Avenue and Forest Street
Known for her book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," she was an outspoken abolitionist during the decades leading up to the Civil War.

North Cemetery: 2053 North Main Street
Historic 19th century graveyard includes those of several African-Americans who fought in the Civil War.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument: Bushnell Park
This monument honors the memory of all those from Connecticut who have given their lives in defense of the country.

Union Baptist Church: 1921 Main Street
An historic church and a focal point for the African-American community in Hartford over the decades.