HARTFORD PUBLIC LIBRARY (HPL) PARTNERS WITH VISION TO LEARN, OFFERING FREE EYE EXAMS TO CHILDREN AGES 5-18

Hartford Public Library to hold Vision To Learn mobile clinics

(Hartford, CT) – Starting Monday, June 26, Vision To Learn mobile clinics will be popping up at each of our seven locations. HPL is excited to partner with Vision To Learn again to offer free eye exams, vision screening and glasses to children at no cost.

Parents interested in having their children participate are asked to fill out a form and a representative will contact them to schedule an appointment. Alternatively, parents can call their local HPL library branch to register over the phone. The eye exams will take 20 minutes and are provided on the mobile clinic by a licensed optometrist. If it is deemed the child needs a prescription, eyeglasses will be provided 3-4 weeks after your appointment, free of charge. Participants will receive a date and time to retrieve glasses from the same library branch on the day of their appointment.
