

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Mary F. Crean, 860.695.6360, mcrean@hplct.org

Photo caption

Young reader Tashya Harrison peers into a cage of banned and challenged books, a display for youth at the Downtown Library in celebration of Banned Books Week. This year marks the 30th anniversary of the event. Banned Books Week brings together the entire book community - librarians, booksellers, publishers, journalists, teachers, and readers of all types -- in shared support of the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular.