Hartford Public Library Announces New World of Sounds Summer Series

Hartford, Connecticut (May 31, 2012) — Hartford Public Library announced today World of Sounds series for the summer, a free Saturday afternoon musical program that runs June 2 through June 16 at 3:00 p.m. The series is funded in part by The Evelyn W Preston Memorial Trust Fund.

As an anchor institution, the Library plays an important role in the region's cultural, social and economic development while contributing to the stability, safety and quality of life in downtown Hartford.

Hartford Public Library supports artistic excellence by engaging local communities in new and exciting ways through an array of inspiring artistic programs. World of Sounds showcases a wide array of performers who represent the diversity of musical cultures and ethnicities that exist in Hartford's neighborhoods. Offerings will range from South American to Classical Indian music.

Upcoming bands scheduled to perform are Sur Sangam on June 2, Dominican Society Folk Band on June 9, and Fiesta del Norte on June 16. The series will resume with two additional concerts in September.
