QUESTION

Shall the electors of the City of Hartford approve and adopt the Charter changes as recommended by the Charter Revision Commission and as approved by the Court of Common Council?"

Explanation. The question deals broadly with restructuring of the Charter including the elimination of the Special Act provisions addressing pensions and retirement which will be compiled in a separate volume entitled "Code of Special Act Authority". Among the key features are (1) strengthening the legislative function of the Council; (2) recognizing the unique role of the City Treasurer; (3) increasing public accountability standards and interactions with Boards and Commissions and during the extended budget process; and (4) aligning the election of Board of Education members with the Mayor, Council and Treasurer.

The following addresses some of the key provisions in each Chapter:

Chapter I – Incorporation and Boundaries: Assembles definitions used throughout the Charter and places them in one location. The intent is to provide uniformity in some key provisions such as "Meeting (or Hearing) Notice" and "Public Notice." These defined terms are capitalized throughout the Charter

Chapter II – Powers of the City: The provisions pertaining to “Benefit Assessments” and “Powers to Adopt Regulatory Ordinances” will be repealed, since there is statutory authority for both items.

Chapter III - Officers and Elections: The election of the Board of Education will align with the election of the Mayor, Council, Treasurer and other elective officials in November of 2027. Board members will be elected to a two-year transitional term in November 2025.

Chapter IV – The Court of Common Council. Clarifies legislative authority to (1) approve multi-year contracts, agreements, settlements and transactions in accordance with Law; (2) engage in legislative oversight and review of the operations of government, including financial matters; and (3) adopt an Ordinance governing the procedures pertaining to the application for grants and other third party revenues from public or private sources, which shall take into account reporting provisions and other accountability standards. The Town and City Clerk would also be placed within the Council office for “administrative and budgetary purposes”. Finally, the Charter clarifies authority for the Council to appoint “full time professional staff,” retain the assistance of the Corporation Counsel or outside counsel and other consultants “to assist the Council in its legislative functions.”

Chapter V - The Mayor. Clarifies the procedures for the adjustment of Mayoral compensation; moves the date of the Mayor’s State of the City address to the second Council meeting in March as opposed to the first; and, creates a process for the Council to determine whether the Mayor is unable to “attend to the duties of office” due to temporary absence or disability.

Chapter VI – The City Treasurer. The Registrars of Voters provision was moved to Chapter III and this chapter deals exclusively with the City Treasurer. First, it establishes a compensation standard in an “amount equal to six thousand ($6,000.00) dollars less than the salary of the Mayor.” Second, the Treasurer would be permitted to place City funds in a state or federally chartered credit union. Third, the Charter memorializes the long-term role of the Treasurer as the administrator of the Pension Commission and “fiduciary” of City pension funds. Fourth, the Treasurer will have the ability to “cause proposals pertaining to the functions” of the Treasurer’s Office on the agenda of the Council and to hire, under the “review and authority” of the Pension Commission, such employees as are “necessary and appropriate to perform the work” of the office.

Chapter VII - Boards and Commissions. Sets forth the general requirements for all appointed boards and commissions including the differing roles and functions of Boards and Commissions; for example, regulatory and department-based policy or administrative functions. The chapter also establishes the priority of appointees to serve the “public interest.” Other requirements addressed include: (1) method of creating Boards and Commissions; (2) appointment; (3) meeting frequency; (4) sunset provisions for dormant Boards and Commissions; (5) record keeping responsibilities; (6) public access, comment and interaction; and, (6) reimbursement for transportation, child care and other services that will facilitate the diverse participation of Hartford electors and diversity requirements. The provision also defines the roles of the Mayor and the City Clerk in conducting public outreach to fully populate diverse Boards and Commissions. The MetroHartford Alliance replaces the ten largest owners of taxable property as the appointing authority for an appointment on the Internal Audit Committee; the structure of the Planning and Zoning Commission is moved from the ordinances to the charter; and, three alternate members will serve on the Zoning Board of Appeals. In addition, the Board of Assessment Appeals is expanded to add two alternate members. The Charter mandates three entities: Police Accountability Review Board; Civilian Police Review Board; Ethics Commission; and, requires “funding of the Inspector General.” Special Act provisions pertaining to the Pension Commission and Greater Hartford Flood Commission are now consolidated and codified in Chapter VII. The membership of the Flood Commission reflects the authority set forth in P.A. No. 13-299.

Chapter VIII - Departments of the City. There is no longer a charter-based elector requirement for the Corporation Counsel; although the Council may establish such requirement by Ordinance. The Council may also establish a level of authority for monetary settlements that do not require Council approval. The monthly reporting requirements were moved to Chapter X.

Chapter IX – Board of Education and Department of Education. The election cycle for the four elected members of the Board of Education will align with other city elected officials in November 2027. The Charter will also require Board of Education members to engage in outreach efforts, including, but not limited to the following in order to increase participation by the public in the activities of the Board of Education: political, religious, community-based, social, mutual benefit organizations, civic and business organizations.

Chapter X – Budget. Provides the Council with additional time to consider the budget. Under the current framework, the Mayor submits his budget to the Council on the 3rd Monday in April. Under this proposed charter, the budget will be submitted at the second meeting of the council in March, adding an additional 4-5 weeks of legislative review and examination.

This chapter also restructures in linear fashion the budget process, including the alignment of the general fund and capital budgets to increase public interactions to take into account (1) performance measures; (2) service levels; (3) differentiation of services to the residents of the City both in terms of policy and service design; and, (4) priorities in the planning, budgeting and management of public services taking into account the plan of conservation and development required by the General Statutes. The Charter requires the development of a Budget Calendar that sets forth key dates in the budget process and requires the Mayor, the Board of Education and Council to work together, in good faith, throughout the year in order to develop and approve a municipal budget which shall include all expected revenues and expenditures and, for the purposes of short- and long-term financial planning, include detailed estimates of revenues, capital expenses and operating expenses utilizing best practices.

Finally, the Chief of Police is required to file an annual report accounting for the revenues and expenditures associated with shared forfeiture funds from the state and federal governments. The Council may establish criteria for the information to be included in said report.
