Channel 3 Host Kara Sundlun Will Discuss New Book at January Hartford Public Library Event

Hartford, Connecticut (December 22, 2014) – Emmy-award winning journalist, Channel 3 co-host and news anchor Kara Sundlun will discuss her newly-released book at a special Hartford Public Library program on Wednesday, January 14 at 6:00 PM. “Finding Dad” details Sundlun’s life growing up fatherless and building a relationship with her father, a legendary war hero and two-term governor, when she was a young woman.

Kara Hewes knew her father, Bruce Sundlun, was a dynamic man whose legendary bravery during WWII transcended to his life in the courtroom, the boardroom, and finally as two-term governor of Rhode Island. But she’d never laid eyes on him until one transformational moment, when she awoke in the middle of the night as a TV news anchor announced he was running for office. One look at his picture and she knew she needed to find the other half of her. But the struggles and challenges that lay ahead were more than Kara could have expected.

Thea Montanez will moderate the conversation and Q&A with Kara Sundlun at the Downtown Library, 500 Main Street, Hartford. The event is free and open to the public. Books will be available for purchase and signing. Visit hplct.org for more information.
